

1. In the beginning there were three triangles ...

2. They formed the centre of a beautiful world of which they were also the guardians ...

3. One day a war broke out between the triangles ...

World of Clouds

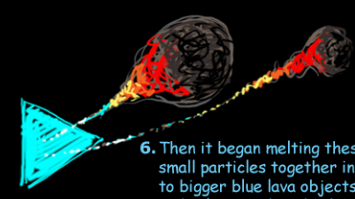

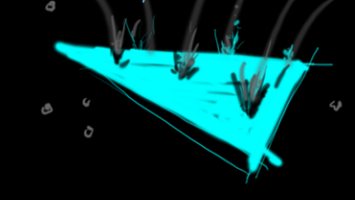

4. The world around them was decimated ...

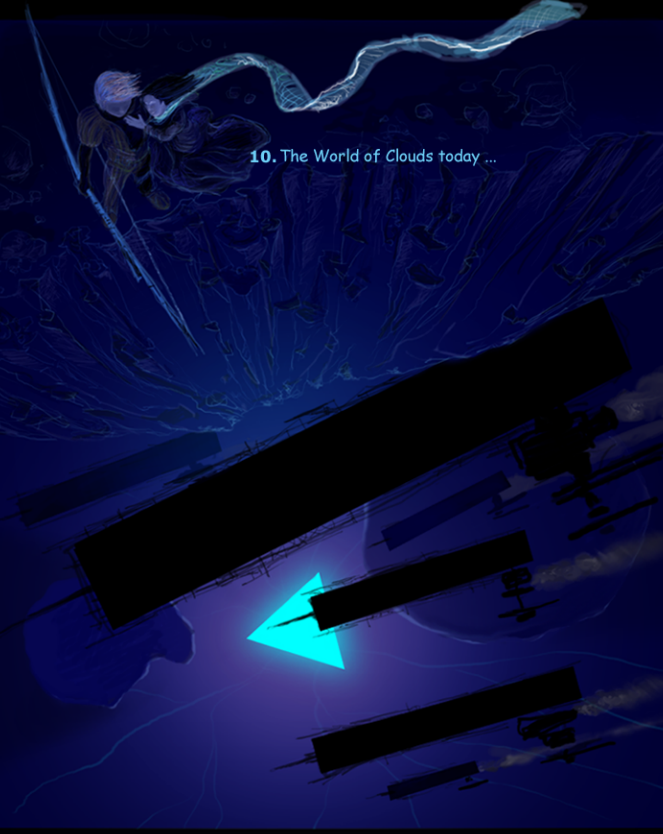

After a year long battle only the blue triangle was left in the middle of a big black void. There was nothing left of a once beautiful and colorful world that swarmed with life ...

5. All the blue triangle could find was small chunks and debris left drifting in the void around it. So it began to absorb those little leftovers one by one ...

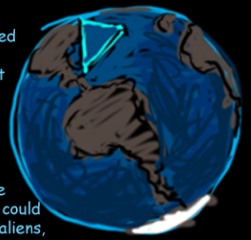

6. Then it began melting these small particles together in to bigger blue lava objects and releasing them back in to orbit around itself in a desperate attempt to rebuild its world ...

10. The World of Clouds today ...

7. Unfortunately these objects just cooled off and formed flat top "floating islands" that didn't develop any life at all ...

Then the triangle created interdimensional gateways that connected to our galaxy and known universe. Through these triangular shaped gateways it began to steal life forms and anything else it thought it could use to build its new world with. Soon aliens, humans, ships, planes and space craft began disappearing. On earth one such a gateway became known as the "Bermuda Triangle ..."

9. The great blue triangle constructed its new world with scraps and pieces of our galaxy. Today this world is known as "the lost world of the great blue triangle" and is still ruled by this unstable and unpredictable triangle ...
